Doctor of Philosophy in Business Administration
The Ph.D. in Business Administration prepares professionals from various sectors, including academia, the military, and the private sector, to serve as educators, researchers, and scholars. Graduates will demonstrate effective scholarly writing and presentation, as well as skills needed to design, perform, compile, and successfully defend a doctoral level dissertation. The program also provides students with the ability to make contributions by publishing in peer-reviewed journals and/or presenting research in professional conferences.

Doctor of Education in Educational Leadership
The Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) in Educational Leadership is designed for current and emerging leaders in both traditional and non-traditional educational environments who are looking to lead complex learning organizations. These leaders include individuals who currently hold or are seeking leadership positions within colleges and universities, educators in non-traditional K–12 environments, and professionals in various non-profit and government settings.

Doctor of Philosophy in Educational Leadership
The mission of the Ph.D. in Educational Leadership program is to prepare and inspire future educational leaders to make a powerful difference in the lives of students. The Educational Leadership program prepares professionals from various sectors, including K-12 and higher education, to serve as leaders, educators, researchers, and scholars. Our educational leadership students develop the knowledge and skills to meet the evolving needs of an increasingly diverse student population through the synergistic integration of research and theory, applied across educational contexts and conditions.

Doctor of Philosophy in Health Sciences
The purpose of the Doctor of Philosophy in Health Sciences program is to prepare professionals from health and health related fields as leaders, educators, researchers, and scholars. Students select either the educator/researcher or practitioner concentration in Global Health or Health Care Administration. Students planning to enter an academic career will have the opportunity to learn skills for effective teaching in academic health profession programs.
